

IMDS Analysis for RoHS 3 compliance
NIDEC MOTORS & ACTUATORS

imds professional

This document is to certify compliance of below named product with the directives 2011/65/EU ("RoHS") and directive 2015/863/EU (amendment of Annex II to Directive 2011/65/EU)
All restricted substances with their max. permitted concentration (non-exempt) are listed on page 2 of this document.

This Analysis is based on all substances declared in the datasheets named below, relative to their percentage per material.
Substances below max. permitted concentration will not be named in the analysis result.

This Analysis is based on IMDS material data created by the customer or received by suppliers.
IMDS Professional disclaims liability for incorrect data.

Product description	MOTOR DCK31
NIDEC part number	404.990
ID number / version of analysed MDS	393835503 / 1
MDS creation date	23-Jan-2013
MDS status	internally released
Date of Analysis	10-Feb-2021

Analysis Result :

This product is compliant with "RoHS" Directives 2011/65/EU and 2015/863/EU (with the following exemptions:)

Detail 1: Material "60 SPb 20" (classification 1.1.1., standard material) can potentially contain up to 0.35% of LEAD. This is compliant according to exemption 6a of Directive 2011/65/EU.

Detail 2: Material "CuZn37" (classification 3.2., published standard material) can potentially contain up to 0.3% of LEAD. This is compliant according to exemption 6c of Directive 2011/65/EU.

Detail 3: Material "C45Pb; C45GPb" (classification 1.1.1., standard material) can potentially contain up to 0.3% of LEAD. This is compliant according to exemption 6a of Directive 2011/65/EU.

Detail 4: Material "PCB-ceramics with lead, Standard" (classification 7.2., part of published semicomponent by ZVEI) can potentially contain up to 4.5% of various lead compounds. This is compliant according to exemption 7c of Directive 2011/65/EU.

Detail 5: Material "Brass Alloy" (classification 3.2., published standard material) can potentially contain up to 2.0% of LEAD. This is compliant according to exemption 6c of Directive 2011/65/EU.
